

VOLUME XV.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE COUNTY.

JERMAINE & BRIGHTMAN,
PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS.
T. D. JERMAINE, M. E. BRIGHTMAN.

RUFUS KING, EDITOR.

TERMS OF THE SENTINEL.
Daily $7.00—Tri-Weekly $4.00—Weekly $1.50
INvariably in Advance.

MILWAUKEE:

TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 12

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

FOR CONGRESS, FIRST DISTRICT.

JOHN F. POTTER,

SECOND DISTRICT.

CADWALLADER C. WASHBURN.

THIRD DISTRICT.

CHARLES BILLINGHURST.

Republican County Convention.

THE Republicans Electors of the several wards and towns in the County of Milwaukee are invited to meet at a mass meeting, to be held on Saturday, Oct. 16, at the theatres, from each town and Ward to meet in County Convention at the Court House, in the City of Milwaukee, at 12 o'clock on Saturday, October 16, to organize for the November election and decide upon the proper course to take with reference to the County nominations.

By Order of the County Committee.

Milwaukee, Oct. 2, 1858.

dawm

The News versus Free Labor.

The News of Sunday copies the article in Saturday's Sentinel, exposing Gov. HAMMOND's Democratic sentiments on the subject of Labor, and attempts a long reply which commences thus:

The editor of the Sentinel is absent, but his place is supplied by some person who can give the readers of that sheet something more than the average number of falsehoods, to the square inch, of political matter, which usually appears in that organ."The Editor of the Sentinel" is present; was present when the article referred to appeared, and very heartily endorses it. There is an equal lack of truth and courtesy, therefore, in the News' remark.We invite the News to point out a single "falseshow" in the article, to which it refers—the only statement made by the Sentinel which the News pretends to dispute, is that in regard to Gov. HAMMOND's political standing. The Sentinel spoke of him, and spoke truly, as "a prominent member of the Senate and a leading member of the Democracy of the South." To this the News, with even more than its usual effrontery, replies:Every intelligent editor in the United States knows that Gov. HAMMOND is not a Democrat, and every well-informed reader besides, knows that each and every count in the News' rejoices in falsehood. Gov. HAMMOND is a Democrat; was elected to the U. S. Senate by the Democratic Legislature of South Carolina; claims to be not only a member, but a leader of the Democracy South; and promulgated doctrines in the extract we quoted, which the Southern wing of the Democratic party heartily approved, and which Northern Douglauses dare not and do not reject. Let us reproduce what this leading Democratic Senator said about our Northern Laborers and Mechanics:

"Slavery is the natural and normal condition of the laboring man—white or black. The great evil of the northern free society is, that it is burdened with a servile class of mechanics and laborers, unfit for self-government, and yet fitted to be the rulers of a country. Master and slave is a relation in society as necessary as parent and child; and the Northern States will have to introduce it. The theory of free government is a delusion."

"It is a fact, that there is no class to perform the drudgery of life—that is, a class consisting but a few low degree of intellect, and but little skill. Such a class you must have, or you would not have that other class which leads progress, civilization, and refinement. It constitutes the very mainstay of society, and of political government; and it is the power which will sustain a nation, if we fail to build either one or the other except on this modish. The man who lives by daily labor, and scarcely lives at that, and who has to put out his labor in the market, and take the best he can get for it, in short, your whole class of manual laborers, and 'servants,' as you call them, are essentially slaves."

This is a Southern Democrat's idea of Northern Operatives—that they are "essentially slaves," the "very mud-sills of society"; mere brawlers of wood and drawers of water" for their betters; a "servile class of mechanics and laborers, unfit for self-government." How exactly does Judge LARABEE's idea of Southern Operatives tally with this? "Servant," says the Judge, "is the normal, or natural condition of the African race"—and "slavery," insists GOV. HAMMOND, "is the natural, or normal condition of the laboring man, white or black?" What do the intelligent and independent Mechanics and Working-men of the Free North and West think of such "Democratic" doctrine? How can they, with the slightest self-respect, support a party whose leaders thus seek to degrade LABOR, and to class all those who live by the labor of their hands and the sweat of their brows, as "the very mud-sills of society?"

The Sentinel in "Hand."In the Daily Sentinel of the 4th instant an article appeared, in reply to a false and impudent attack in the Sentinel upon the editor of this paper, in the course of which we said,In the third place, the Sentinel had "denounced" me, as the "Land Grant Swindler," and Mr. AUGUST GRUNZICK, one of the editors and proprietors, and at the time a Member of Assembly from this County, received FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS, "in bonds," from the La Crosse Company for the "aid" he rendered "the Swindle."During the absence of the Editor of the Sentinel at Madison, Mr. DRAZIER, of the Sentinel, published a card in the Sentinel, in reply to the above, which only met our eye yesterday. It runs as follows:CORRECTION.
OFFICE OF THE SENTINEL,
MILWAUKEE, Oct. 4th, 1858.To the Editor of the Sentinel:—I am the sole and only proprietor of the Sentinel and Co. Partner of the Sentinel. In correction to this statement I hereby declare that I am the sole and only proprietor of the Sentinel. In correction to this statement I hereby declare that I am the sole and only proprietor of the Sentinel and Co. Partner of the Sentinel.And I declare further that Mr. Christian Orlé is the Editor of the Sentinel and Co. Partner of the Sentinel, and that neither he nor I received any R. B. Bonds, and that, therefore the whole statement in the Sentinel against my paper, is entirely false.

I am Sir,

Very respectfully Yours,

P. V. DRAZIER.

We are obliged to characterize this as an unworthy quibble. It denies what the Sentinel never charged and affirms what we never denied. Mr. Drazier, Mr. Orlé, and every other man in this community, knew perfectly well that at the time of the passage of that paper, now called "the Land Grant Swindle," Mr. August Grunzick, as the Sentinel said, "one of its editors and proprietors, and a member of the Assembly from this county," and that, in this double capacity, he received five thousand dollars "in bonds," for the aid he rendered the swindle. They also know that the Sentinel, like the Banner, and the other presses in this city, English and German, "rendered all possible aid to the Land Grant Swindle," which this same Sentinel now round and round.

MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL, TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 12, 1858.

The Sentinel never charged that Mr. DRAZIER or Mr. Orlé received any R. R. "bonds," so that Mr. Drazier's indignant denial on that point is the mere affectation. But the Sentinel did charge that Mr. GRUNZICK, at the time an editor and proprietor of the Sentinel and a member of the Legislature, received $5,000 "in bonds," and this charge the Sentinel dare not and does not deny. In short, "the whole statement" in the Sentinel about the "Swindle" was literally and exactly true and Mr. Drazier's declaration that it was "a direct falsehood and slander," is an impudent and wilful lie.

FURTHER OPENING OF THE LA CROSSE R. R. EXCAVATION TO LA CROSSE AND ST. PAUL.

On Tuesday next, the La Crosse and Milwaukee Rail Road, now completed through to the Mississippi, will be formally inaugurated by an excursion trip to La Crosse and St. Paul. The train will leave this city at 1 o'clock A. M., and arrive at La Crosse at 2 P. M.; giving passengers an opportunity to stop a few hours in La Crosse, and thence, taking the Northern Light and War Eagle, both five boats, to reach St. Paul about Friday noon. The fare to La Crosse and back, will be $7.50, and to St. Paul and back only ten dollars, including meals and berths on the steamers. The tickets will be good till the 20th inst. Wednesday week, giving all opportunity to see St. Paul and visit St. Anthony, Minneapolis, the Lakes, and all other objects of interest within a compass of twenty or thirty miles. Probably no better opportunity will be presented to our citizens, of taking the most delightful ride and sail, and seeing the most picturesque and attractive route in the United States.

Our merchants and business men, especially, should embrace the occasion to become personally acquainted with people and places on the Upper Mississippi. The completion of the La Crosse road secures to Milwaukee a vast advantage in the eager competition for the trade of the country, and sure to be prosperous, North-West. Shall that advantage be improved, or are we to stand idle and indifferent, while Chicago and other enterprising neighbors rush into the field and bear off the prize. The answer to that question depends much on the turn out next Thursday. If our Merchants, Forwarders, etc., appear in full force, and take pains to make themselves known along the route, they and the city will profit equally by their visit. Now is the time for them to secure the trade of Minnesota.

Will they do it?

The Light Guard, Company "A," of this city, with Merritt's Cornet Band, and "Young Americans," and probably the Chicago Light Guard also, will accompany the excursion.

MARCH MEETING AT WHITEWATER, Wednesday, October 13th.

There will be a Mass Meeting of the Republicans of Walworth and adjoining counties, at Whitewater, on Wednesday, the 13th instant, on which occasion those present will be addressed by Hon. JOHN F. PORTER, our candidate for Congress, Hon. J. R. DRAZIER, U. S. Senator from this State, and other distinguished gentlemen. It is hoped and expected that Hon. F. P. BLAIR, of Missouri, whose noble defense for freedom on the soil of a Slave State endears him to the whole body of a free people, will be present.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps makes a rich show. Some of the largest tents we have ever seen anywhere and some fine varieties of cauldrons, particularly attracted our attention, but we have lost the owner's name. When, of course, does not much of a show. Mr. JENKINS, of Madison, shows some fine dent corn. Vegetables of unusual appearance are scattered about the tent, in great profusion. A two house and excellent honey is exhibited by R. BARNET, of Oregon. A good deal of curiosity seems to be manifested by the farmers, in the science of bee-keeping. Cheesecakes and butter make a creditable show.

The tent for Garden and Field Corps

BUSINESS CARDS.

E. J. FARWELL,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law.
OFFICE: No. 9 JUNEAU BLOCK, EAST WATER ST.,
MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN.
REPUTATION.

EMINIONS, VAN DUSEN & MAMILTON,
Attorneys at Law, Milwaukee, Wisconsin,
100 Water Street, corner of Wisconsin St.,
and East Water Street, corner of Wisconsin St.,
Milwaukee, Wis.

HENRY W. COIT,
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW
NOTARY PUBLIC.

A. A. COOPER, Commissioner of Deeds for the State of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, in his office,
100 Water Street, with dispatch.

OSCAR LUDWIG'S Block, corner East Water and Wisconsin Streets, Milwaukee, Wis.

130 Water Street, corner of Wisconsin and East Water Streets, Milwaukee, Wis.

AMERICAN HOUSE,
Spring Street, Milwaukee, Wis.
BOARD $1 PER DAY.
130 Water Street.

P. FRANKEON,

DADY & GALLOWAY.

HORN, RICH & DRAGOMIR, Carriers, Grani-tewall, 100 Water Street, corner of Wisconsin and West Market Streets, Milwaukee, and on the most reputable term.

A. H. SHEPHERD, Jefferson and Michigan Streets.

A. H. DADD.

W. H. RADDALL.

AT THE LEAVES AT LAW
5th Avenue Buildings, WIS.

W. H. RADDALL.

MERRILL'S AMERICAN
CORNET BAND!

Now ready to furnish any number of instruments from one to 22 for Bands, Parties, Parades, Excursions, etc., at reasonable rates. Apply or address to W. H. RADDALL, 130 Water Street, Milwaukee, American House, Milwaukee, Wis.

W. H. RADDALL.

P. H. JUGENIN,
DRUMMAKER.

H. H. GODARD, 130 Water Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

Market Street, opposite the Milwaukee Marketplace, opposite the Milwaukee—on the most reputable term.

H. H. GODARD.

W. H. RADDALL.

